What We Are Learning:

Reading: We will finish our Non Fiction reading assessment on Monday. I will add the points from both reading tests together for one reading test grade. We will also work on comparing paired texts on "Snowflakes" and writing an extended response using details from both texts.

Language Arts: Our spelling skill this week is words with the /z/ sound made with <ze> and <se>. Our test will be on Friday. In grammar we will work with present-tense verbs. In writing we will do something fun relating to Valentine's Day and continue to write out Non Fiction books.

Math: We will finish Unit 3 of math this week and take our final test for this unit. Our next unit will be Area and Perimeter and we will begin that on Friday.

Science: We will learn about electromagnets and generators this week. Students will get a study guide and our test is next week.

At Home:

A study guide for Science will go home on Wednesday. Our test will be on Tuesday of next week. Please help your child study for this test. They can bring their text book home upon your request to review Chapter 13.

From the Teacher:

We have a busy week ahead of us in 3rd Grade. Thursday is Valentine's Day. Just a reminder that District policy states that children cannot pass out candy or food treats because of allergy concerns. Your child is welcome to bring in Valentines and non-edible treats like pencils, erasers, etc. We will celebrate Valentine's Day with a little craft activity, a classroom treat (allergy friendly) from me, and some extra recess.

Please consider participating the Heart Heroes fundraiser. Last year our school raised over $3,000 for heart research.
